

Dear Superstar – soon to be in Primary 6/7,

I am beyond excited for us all to be reunited at the end of the holidays! I can't quite believe you are going to be in Primary 6/7! I know you were slightly concerned at how the plants in your new classroom would survive the summer, but don't you worry, they are thriving and can't wait to be back in the classroom with you and the rest of the class. I may have overwatered them a little bit – I think they are desperate for you and the team to take over feeding time!

I can't wait for you to see your class. Your beautiful art work that you did before the holidays is up on the walls brightening up the class as well as all the little suggestions you made to make our classroom special.

One thing I'd love you to do over the next couple of days is think of what our class song could be. This song will be our anthem for tidying up, celebrating our achievements and just having a good old boogie to!

I am so excited for all the fun things we will be doing in Primary 6/7 and looking forward to making lots more memories with you. Enjoy the last of your holidays!

Sparkles of joy and bubbles of love,

Miss Campbell x
